TRAINING IN PROGRESS!

MVP

By Jackson Dixie and Tori Woodsom

MVP stands for Mentors in Violence Prevention. Ms. Rivers and Mr. Opolski are our school's MVP coordinators. MVP teaches students how to recognize and address teen dating violence so that they can help other students who may be in abusive relationships. The goal of this group is to raise awareness, change accepted behaviors and stop teen dating violence from occurring. This November 13th and 14th, a group of 22 students participated in in-school MVP training. The participants included Marley Metcalf, Sophia Huynh, Olivia Jusfredo, Kaia Bartosik, Delaney Argent, Brooke Woodsom, Zoey Rome, Jackson Dixie, Max Benica, Shelby Massey, Adele Bailin, Tori Woodsom, Isla Doyle, Norah Costagin, Lizzy Patch, Quinn Fortier, Noah Tebou, Charlotte Costigan, Lydia Hunt, Ava Neuburg, and Lyvia Busch.

Training, which went on for two days from 8AM to Isla Doyle, Charlotte Costigan, Lyvia Busch, Nora Costigan, and Jackson Dixie make a chart about Respect.

2PM, in rooms 129/131, was led by members of the Jeanne Geiger Crisis Center. It consisted of a series of videos and group discussions. First, the trainees made lists of types of abuse on chart paper and discussed them. They read examples of real life abuse situations. The students learned how common dating violence is according to statistics. They watched videos on a woman leaving a toxic relationship and how bystanders can help prevent manipulations. They also did agree/disagree activities in which students stood on one side of the room or the other according to whether they agreed or disagreed with particular statements.

At the conclusion of the second day, an additional 22 students are now eligible to join MVP and take an active role in teen dating violence prevention.

If you are interested in receiving more information about this program, you may reach out to Ms. Rivers or Mr. Opolski.

ART CONTEST WINNERS

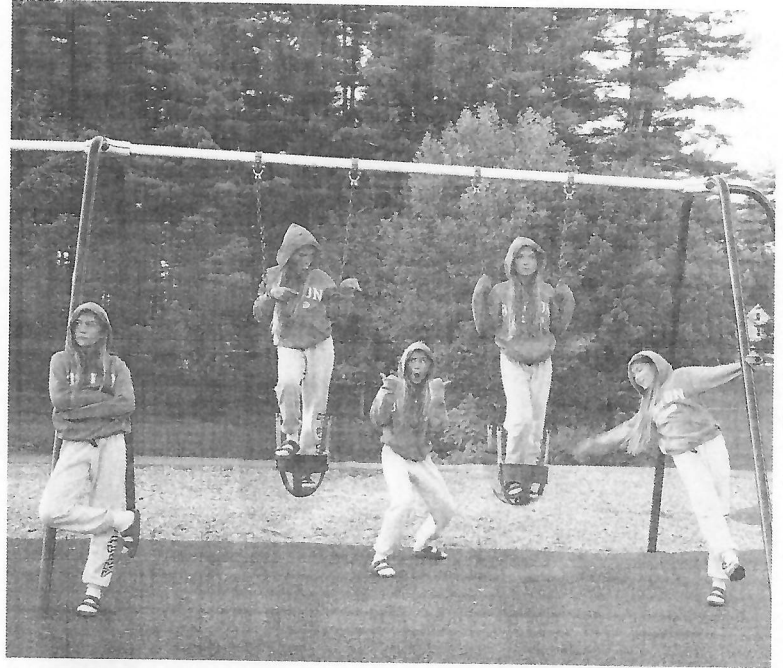

Art Contest

Students from quarter 1 Art & Design classes exhibited their best work in the lobby and invited people to vote for their favorite art piece last week. Digital photography, graphic designs, film photography, paintings, and ceramics were featured.

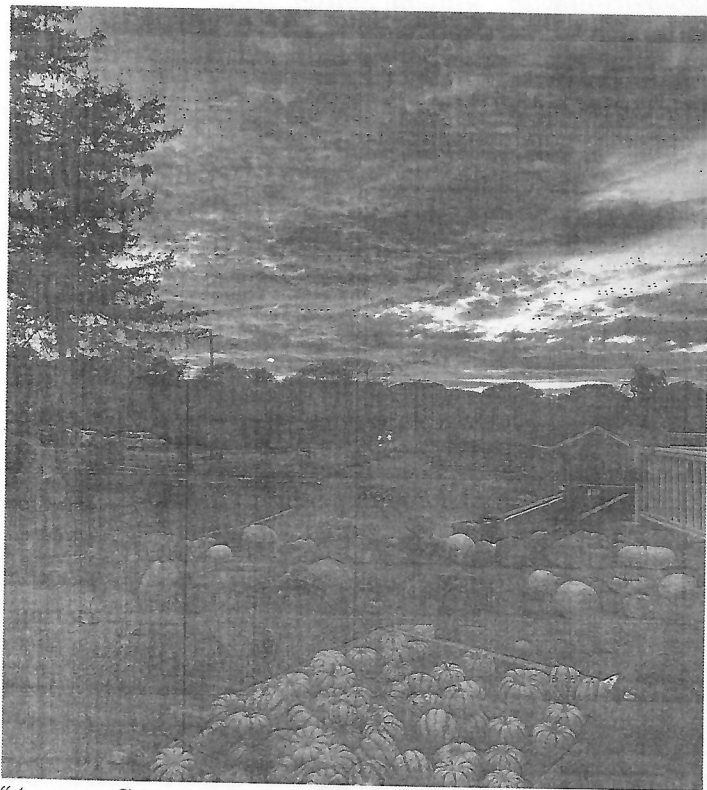

Gabby Bonia won first place for the People's Choice award for her photo "Fab Gabs." Gabby merged multiple photos of herself using Photoshop to create the "Multiplicity" effect.

Noah Shoukimas won third for his photo "Two Goldens," in which he captured the personalities of his dogs perfectly. Stay tuned for the next art exhibit and opportunity to vote for your favorite artwork next quarter.

MEET OF CHAMPIONS

We bet you thought Cross Country was over a long time ago, but Amesbury's two top runners were still going until last weekend. Senior Julia Parsons qualified and placed 35th out of 175 runners in the Division 3 Meet of Champions on Saturday at Fort Devins. Julia has run in the top race all four years. Sophomore Josh Fugate also qualified and placed 28th. Parsons plans to run X-country in college, while you can expect Fugate to be first in the Amesbury pack for two more years.

SAC EXPANDS

Although the Student Advisory Council elected the legally required amount of members last Spring, having only five members didn't sit well with a council that is supposed to represent the whole student body. Chairperson Addi Snow wasn't going to let just anyone walk in and join, however. Those interested in becoming members had to attend four "open meetings" and give a speech as to why they wanted to be on the council. On Tuesday night, the following were appointed. Freshmen: Jackson Dixie, Nora Costigan, Quinn Fortier, Brooke Woodson, juniors Lydia Hunt, Lyvia Busch, Marley Metcalf, and Avery Huggins, and senior Sabrina Aylward.

They join Connor Olson, Vice Chair Sienna Brunnelle, secretary Ava Paulino, Charlotte Costigan, and Chairperson Addi Snow.

STUCo GOES TO NEMASC

Annual Conference

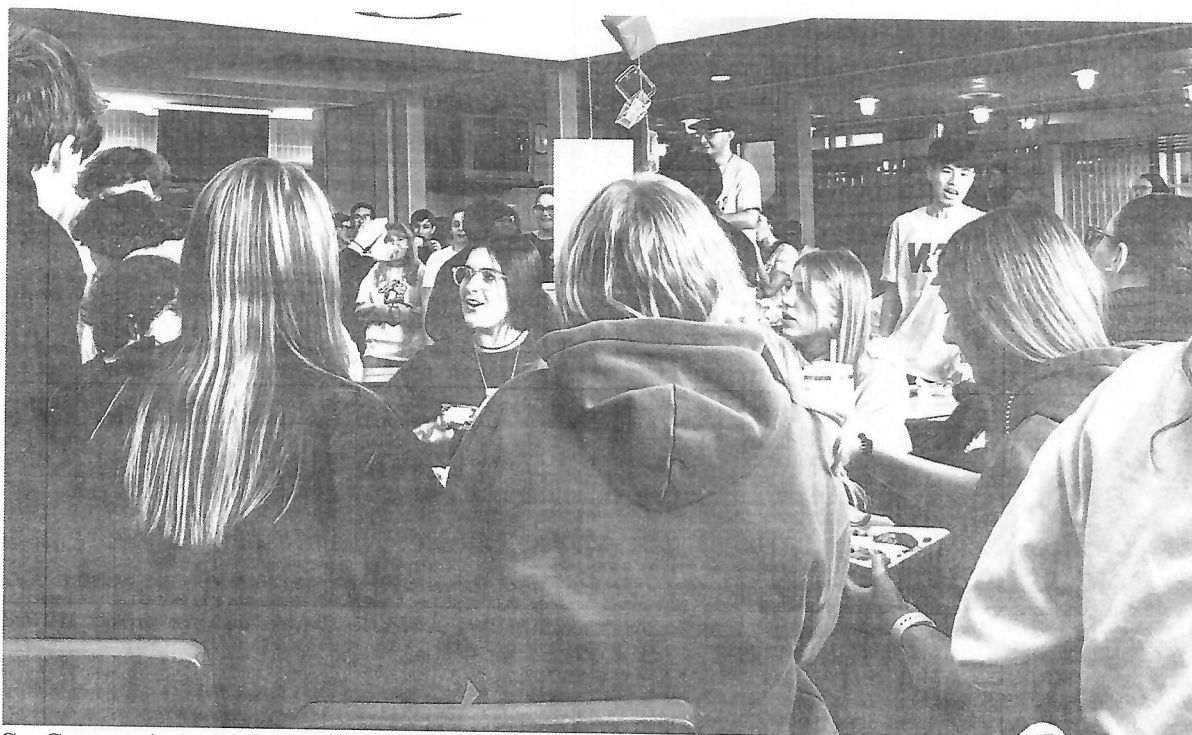

By Jared Black

This past Tuesday on November 19th, twenty-one Student Council members went to a NEMASC conference. The NEMASC, Northeastern Massachusetts Student Council, conference was held at North Andover High School. Schools arrived around 9:00 AM and went into a group discussion led by the NEMASC chairs.

After a few energizers and introduction speeches, the guest speakers were introduced. They were called the "Up Guys". This duo shared their life experiences with addiction and tragedy. These hard-hitting, real stories were supplemented by many talents they had such as juggling or singing. After this speech, the Amesbury kids mixed in with other grades to have their first group session. These sessions were different for each of the seven groups that were created, with each group traveling to separate parts of the school. These groups used games or activities to convey messages that could be taken back to each school's individual councils. These messages could be anything from communication to cooperation. There were a total of two group sessions broken up by a lunch of pizza and salad graciously provided by the North Andover High School cafeteria.

During lunch the whole group played a few games that got the whole NEMASC delegation involved. After a closing ceremony, the Amesbury delegation to NEMASC left with newly found knowledge on how to bring welcomed changes to our school's student council. The delegation looks forward to the second NEMASC conference of the year in the spring as well as the MASC conference in March.

StuCo members have lunch at North Andover High School.

IT WAS A GOOD RUN

Football

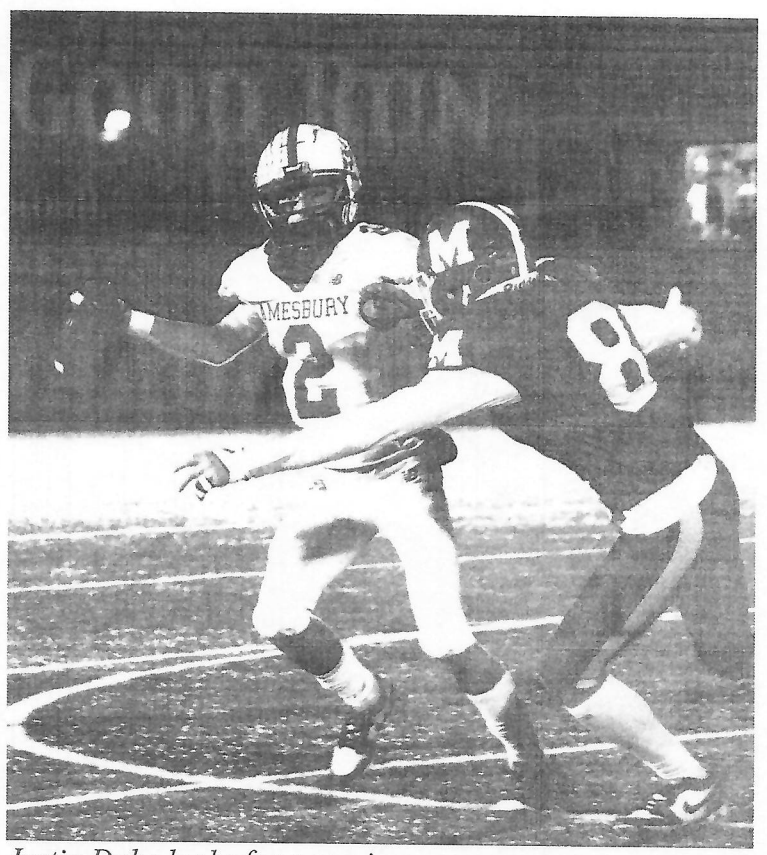

The Redhawks playoff plans came to an end last Friday at Mashpee with a 20-30 loss. Those who braved the almost 3 hour drive to Cape Cod were at least treated to a competitive game.

It was 8-6 after quarter one. Both teams scored in the second quarter. Connor Scialdone pushed it in from the one yard line. Scialdone heard his name called a lot, as he had 13 carries. At half time, it was 16-6.

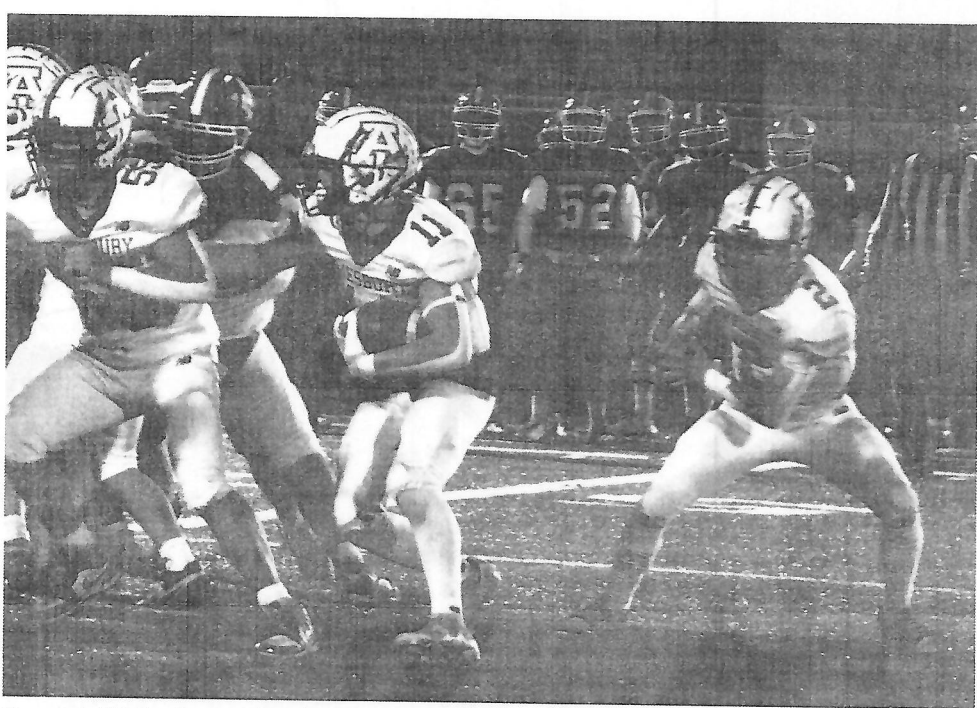

In the third quarter the Redhawks' DJ DiCarlo scored but the Falcons came back with two scores. Amesbury held the Falcons in the fourth while quarterback Justin Dube found Ollie Peters for a 21 passing score.

Amesbury was held to half their usual yardage on the ground. Joe Puleo had the most with 48, followed by DJ with 42. Dube had a good day in the air, however, with passing yards to DiCarlo, Peters, and Scialdone for a total of 77 yards.

CONNOR OLSON

Senior Profile

By Sophia Santa Fe

Connor Olson was born on May 22, 2007, and is currently a senior here at AHS! Connor has held numerous titles both in and outside of school, including being a SAC class rep and a Scouts Patrol leader. Connor's favorite teacher here at AHS is Leary since she is, in his opinion, the most understanding. Connor's favorite class is math since it's the subject he excels the most in. Connor's most memorable school activity so far has been participating in Drama Club, and if he could change one thing about high school, he would have joined Drama Club sooner! While Connor isn't in school, he enjoys biking, gaming, going to Walmart, and eating spaghetti with meaballs. If

Connor could have one superpower it would be the ability to fly, which makes sense because he wants to be a pilot when he's older. A weird pet peeve that Connor has is when people chew ice. After highschool, Connor plans on attending college and eventually working as a fish and game officer. If Connor could give some

"The Rock" Johnson or Tom Cruise. If Connor could meet anyone, alive or dead, he would like to meet Keanu Reeves because he is John Wick. The greatest mystery that Connor would like to see explained is the Bermuda Triangle, so weird, right? Connor's favorite song is "Centuries" by his favorite artist, Fall Out Boy. If Connor had a genie that would grant him three wishes, he would ask for two free cruise vacations, a car, and his very own house in Hawaii. Connor's favorite movie franchise is "Star Wars" and his favorite book is "The Martian." If Connor had the option to change something in his life, he would choose to not change a thing. Connor's all-time favorite quote is

"Do or do not. There is no try."

-Yoda

advice to his eight-year-old self, he would tell himself to study more and watch less television. If Connor had a movie made about his life, he would like to be played by either Dwayne

ETHAN STANTON

Senior Profile

By Ava Flynn

Ethan Stanton, who was born August 6th, 2007, is officially a senior, despite his favorite year of high school being his junior year!

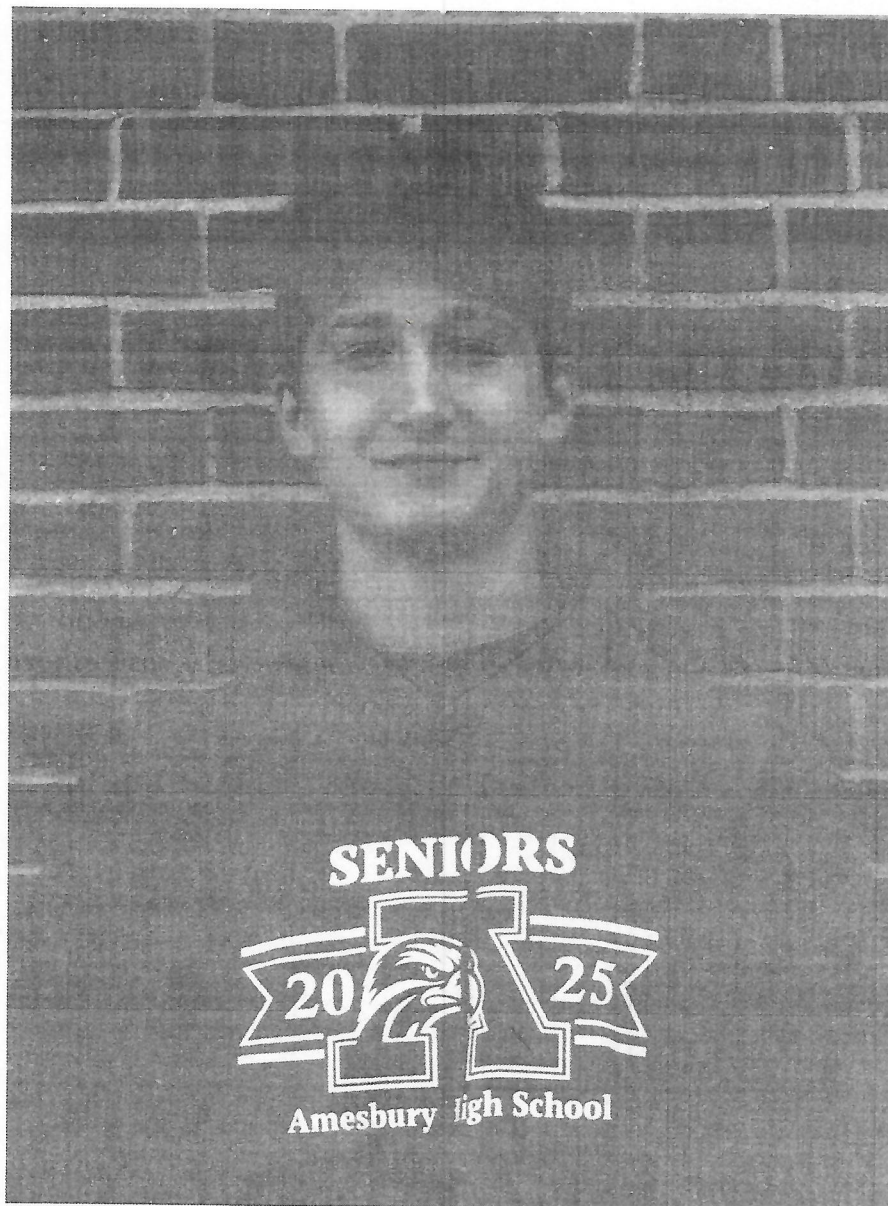

One thing everyone can agree on is that Ethan... is tall. He claims his height is not only the most unique thing about him, but also his greatest accomplishment. In school Ethan participates in lacrosse, track, and XC. His favorite teacher of all time would be the man himself, Mr. Maloney-Perez because "he's chill". If Ethan could have changed one thing about his high school career he would want to change freshman year and be less stupid overall. Ethan's favorite thing about school is that he gets to talk to a bunch of different people. Outside of school, you may find Ethan snowboarding or hiking the nearest mountain or jamming out to his favorite song, "Why I Love You" by Kanye West.

Despite this being his favorite song, Ethan's favorite musical artist would be Bruno Mars. While shopping, you will always find Ethan at Putnam's Ski Brawl Star gems, and free cookies at lunch. When asked who Ethan would want to meet dead or alive, he answered: "Adam Sandler. He seems chill." When nobody is looking Ethan likes to sleep wherever and whenever the opportunity presents itself. The greatest mystery he'd like to see explained is whether a hotdog is a sandwich or a sub. If Ethan could change one thing about his life outside of school it would be his divorced parents. If you really want to irritate Ethan, one of his biggest pet peeves is people walking slow. After he graduates from AHS, Ethan plans to move to Texas to follow his dreams of being a sweaty cowboy. In ten years he sees himself gambling in a casino. If Ethan had one major piece of advice to give to current and future seniors he says to "bully the freshmen."

& Snowboard Shop in Portsmouth, New Hampshire. At home, Ethan may be seen playing his favorite mobile game, Brawl Stars. When offered three wishes from The AHS Weekly Genie, Ethan asked for his phone in class,

The United States of America hasn't been around for nearly as long as some other countries, but its history is important all the same. The history of America's rulers and presidents, however, is arguably one of the most important aspects of America as a whole. We've had many terrible presidents, but many influential ones as well. 61 years ago today marks the death of the youngest elected and arguably most influential presidents of the century; John F. Kennedy.

John F. Kennedy was born in Brookline, Massachusetts on May 29, 1917. He went to Harvard during the Great Depression and graduated in 1940. After his graduation, He enlisted in the Navy. In 1943, a Japanese destroyer boat rammed into his PT boat, and Kennedy helped lead the others to safety. He became a Congressman for the Democratic party and advanced to the Senate in 1953, and married Jacqueline Kennedy the same year. He almost gained nomination for Vice President in 1956, but in 1960, he was a first-ballot nominee for President. He became the first Roman Catholic President in 1961, narrowly beating Richard Nixon.

His most famous quote is "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country." He planned to improve conditions where privation and poverty were most prevalent. He called for new civil rights legislation and improvement regarding the reach of human rights. He persisted through the fight between Russia and Vietnam, satisfied that both sides showed interest in stopping the spread of nuclear weapons and slowing the arms race.

In 1963, during his campaign against Barry Goldwater for the next presidential election, Kennedy traveled to Texas to present a show of unity between Gov. John Connally Jr. and Sen. Ralph Yarborough. On Friday, November 22, he and his wife Jackie Kennedy were in an open limousine at 12:30 p.m. during a parade when he was shot in the head by Lee Harvey Oswald, being pronounced dead at Parkland Memorial hospital shortly after. Lyndon B. Johnson took the presidential oath at 2:38 p.m. the same day.

ART WINNERS ANNOUNCED

In early November, Yearbook held a candid contest in which any AHS student was invited to send in their own photos of their fellow classmates. What is a candid you ask? Well, a candid photo can be spontaneous. It can show people being their authentic selves, rather than how they might appear in a portrait. The most submissions came from the Sophomore class, go sophomores! Photo judges chose two photographers for the winning candid; Maria Barbosa and Josiah Fugate. Maria captured the friendship and camaraderie within her soccer team. Josiah's photos featured some authentic expressions and fun moments with his friends. Congrats to these two students for getting their photography published and receiving $10 gift cards to Starbucks! Look for these awesome candid photos when the Yearbook arrives at the end of the school year. Missed the contest? You can still send in your own student candid photos of you and your fellow classmates to potentially be published in the yearbook. Just email your pics to Mrs. Sconce. kaitlin.sconce@amesburyma.org

THANKSGIVING OOPSIES

Column

By Tori Woodsom

Thanksgiving is less than a week away! This holiday never fails to bring people together. From playing football, watching the parade, to spending time with family and friends. But most importantly, the supper. While most of the food is delicious, not every dish can be a winner. Here is my list of the worst Thanksgiving foods.

- Butternut Squash - Some swear by this food, claiming it is the “tastier sweet potato,” However, others have taste buds, and if this dish is on the Thanksgiving table, then it is not on their plate.
- Cranberry Salad - While at first look this food might just look like mashed up cranberries, be alert for the apples, greek yogurt, and marshmallows that hide.
- Sweet Potato Marshmallow Casserole - If America was a food, it would be a sweet potato marshmallow casserole, and I fear that’s not a compliment.
- Mashed Cauliflower - Imagine going in for a bite of creamy, gooey mashed potatoes only to taste the cynical, gut wrenching taste of cauliflower.
- Jello-O Salad - Apparently the pilgrims liked gelatin?

ASK PETUNIA-JONES!

Turkey Time!

Dear Petunia Jones,

It's that time of the year again where we must celebrate the thanks we have to give. Petunia, as a distinguished chef and planner I was hoping you could help me! You see, I'm expecting 20 people to be at my thanksgiving dinner and I've never cooked before! Petunia please help me plan a menu, and tell me how to wow all my guests; not poison them like my Aunt Berry did last Thanksgiving! I will be eternally grateful for your help!

- The Pillsbury Doughboy

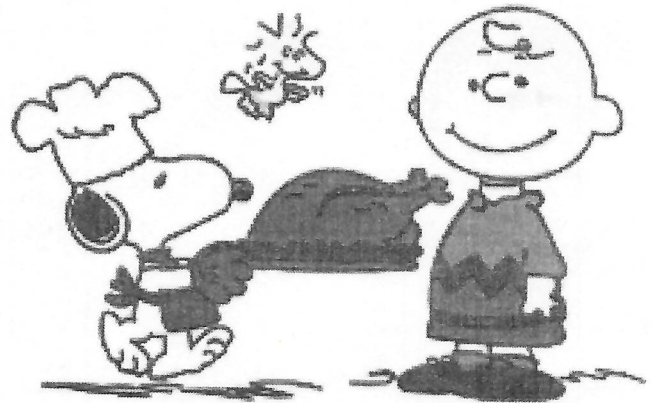

Dear Mr Doughboy,

It is I, the great Penelope Jones! Unfortunately Petunia got lost when trying to hunt down our family 80lb turkey and wasn't back in time to write you before the great turkey day! Fortunately I am an expert when it comes to food. You see I was classically trained in cooking turkey from a young age. The key to making a delicious turkey isn't the seasonings or how you cook it, it's all about the kind of turkey. One year, my Aunt Latice hosted Thanksgiving and she served a wild car turkey and it was nasty! Her methods of killing the turkey with her car took away all the juicy flavor. The Jones' family secret is to use the large wild breed known as the Oiseau de Grand! It's a bird that grows up to be 100lbs in just 9 months! Not to mention the bird is juicy, tender, and delicious! When cooking a bird this big we recommend smoking the bird in the ancient wood of Arthea. The age of the wood makes a unique flavor you won't find anywhere else. As for sides my personal favorite is loaded mashed sweet potatoes. The Jones' family doesn't like the traditional sweet potato instead we mash the sweet potato and add milk from our silver cows. Then, we use creamed cheese from the brown cows. Finally we add plenty of spices like garlic to ward off the vampires that haunt my grammy's basement. Voila!

A perfect side dish! Now, one side at Thanksgiving truly not enough I recommend making your family's special side. At the Jones' house we love to do cow tongue soaked in chicken blood! It's a unique flavor that you truly won't see anywhere else! For dessert, you need something showstopping that will make everyone want to come back! I recommend a 7 layer tiered cake! The mix of flavors always wows guests.

Now table decor, we need something special! I recommend going to the nearest field and finding inspiration. Or keep it simple candles, pumpkins and the carcasses of turkeys of Thanksgivings past is often what we use. Name tags at holidays are pivotal! We recommend using dead leaves and setting them at each place setting! I hope you have a successful Thanksgiving! Best of luck!

- Penelope Jones

Horoscope

Virgo (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Life: You will forget if shampoo or conditioner goes first and will end up just using neither.

Single: You will start a peaceful life as a carpenter in the Irish countryside.

Couples: You and your partner will break up and you will start a peaceful life as a carpenter in the Irish countryside.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Life: You will become dissatisfied with how Ralph is running things and will start your own tribe on the other side of the island.

Single: You will start an enlightening conversation with the severed pig's head mounted on a stick in the forest.

Couples: You will discover that your partner is not in the island with you, it's just a bunch of other little British boys.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Life: You will find out something bad about someone famous you liked and try to justify their actions internally.

Single: You will get pulled over for a broken taillight and somehow leave the altercation with federal racketeering charges.

Couples: You and your partner will go to a U-Haul store and pop all the bubble wrap in the packing section.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)

Life: You will fall down a YouTube Shorts rabbit hole of plumbing videos.

Single: You will start drinking based tea instead of cringe coffee.

Couples: You will convince your partner to take out their entire savings to buy gold from Costco but will trip and drop it down the sewer on the way to the store.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 20)

Life: You will win the World Series of Roulette (you just went black on every turn).

Single: You will stew the most delicious clam chowder known to man.

Couples: You and your partner will help Schlorgonathan escape his imprisonment in a mining camp on Glorbon IV by impersonating generals of the Galactic Royal Guard.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Life: You will move to a pond and write a book about nature that's really long and really boring.

Single: You will meet the woman of your dreams at the DMV.

Couples: You and your partner will fall out of love and it's pretty much a 50/50 chance if you will fall back in love or not.

Pisces (Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)

Life: You will paint your masterpiece only for the first person you show it to to tell you that you accidentally just painted Starry Night.

Single: You will decide to become a priest because you're gonna be single anyways.

Couples: You and your partner will vie for the role of pope in the conclave with both of your digging up dirt on the other negating both your chances so they just choose some boring old white guy.

Aries (Mar. 21 - April 20)

Life: You will wake up in a whaling ship in the early 1800s and decide to just play along and hunt some whales because there is nothing else to do.

Single: You will once again become an Elon stan because he is in the government now and you saw a picture of Zuck in those lame, smart glasses and he looks like a nerd again.

Couples: You and your partner will both become addicted to Tic Tacs.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

Life: You will put pennies in the jar for your grade and put all other money in the jar for the other grades for Penny Wars.

Single: You will single-handedly lose Color Day for your grade.

Couples: You and your partner will compete to see who can donate the most canned goods (charity is fun!)

Gemini (May 21 - June 21)

Life: You will wake up as a whale being hunted down by an early 1800s whaling ship.

Single: You will win make an upset victory in the Best Actor category at the next Oscar's (sorry Ralph Fiennes).

Couples: You and your partner will bundle your home and auto with Allstate.

Cancer (June 22 - July 24)

Life: You will just narrowly escape being consumed by the box fan in the corner of your basement, but your shirt was not so lucky.

Single: You will vow never to go near that fan again.

Couples: Your partner will encourage you to write a memoir about your narrow escape from the box fan.

Leo (July 25 - Aug. 23)

Life: You will be contacted by the dark forces about your car's extended warranty.

Single: You will not escape being consumed by the box fan in the corner of your basement.

Couples: You and your partner will do something interesting I guess IDK.
